

I don't see how the phone companies (Sprint) can charge the customer to have the phone hanging in their homes. We get charged around $40-$50 a month just to have a phone in our home. Is that right or is that wrong. We've never had a problem where we used to live, not outrageous amount like Sprint.